ACTOR TOO CRUEL, SPOUSE COMPLAINS

Will Martin Once Threatened to Shoot, Wife Charges
in Suit

One night during their short marital career Will B. Martin, whose occupation is given as that of a theatrical man, came home and found his pretty little wife Elsie all cuffed up in bed asleep with her pet dog. "I do—or maybe it was Pandy—in her arm."

Martin proceeded without ceremony or warning to kick his wife and crawled out of bed. He threw the dog out and ran far into the street as he roared back and slammed Mrs. Martin's head against the wall a few times just to beat it into her head that he would not tolerate doggie where hubby had the exclusive right to repose.

Disobeys His Command

On another occasion Martin thumped his wife's nose with a switch, driving her out of the room, she pulled on a ring and threw it upon the floor and refused to pick it up when he commanded her to do so.

In fact, numerous were the times that Martin beat his wife and on one occasion he threatened to shoot her with a revolver that he always carried.

The grounds upon which Mrs. Martin secured a no-fault divorce in the Superior Court this morning, the charge against Martin being extreme cruelty.

JURY BOX IN CALHOUN TRIAL IS FILLED AGAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Two more jurors were temporarily passed in the Calhoun case this morning. One was Jas. B. Gorman, a carriage painter of 5 State street, whose examination was begun yesterday afternoon. To everyone's great surprise Henry C. Graham of the California Transportation Company was readily passed by both sides for the second juror accepted today. There is still one vacancy in the jury box.

The proceedings today will be to secure that juror, the temporary jurors accepted having been ordered to appear in court tomorrow morning for the final weeding out process.

Charles Blender, a former contractor, residing at 714 Castro street, was passed as the twelfth juror in the Calhoun case at 3:04 o'clock this afternoon. The box is now full, there being six jurors sworn and six temporarily passed for the trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Ten minutes only were spent by special Prosecutor Francis J. Heney at the Calhoun trial yesterday. When proceedings were continued this morning he was missing again. It has been suggested that he is spending his time working up the case, but when it is remembered that because of the three previous trials of Trey L. Ford he must be familiar with its every detail, and as Special Agent Burns seems to be doing nothing else but looking into the evidence and line up the witnesses, it is believed that something else must be engaging his attention.

He appears to be tired of the trial, and at present, at least, O'Gara is doing most of the fighting.

After a day spent in resting at their hotel, a ride to the beach and a visit last evening to the theater, the six sworn jurors were again in court

First Talesman

The first citizen placed under the vigorous questioning of counsel was James B. Gorman, a carriage painter, residing at 5 State street, and he seemed at the very start by his answers to Attorney Earl Rogers to be qualified ultimately to serve as a juror in the case. He claimed to be delightfully and unusually opinionated regarding the issues involved in the present charge; and although he admitted acquaintances with a number of ex-supervisors, knew of no reason why he could not be impartial if sworn for the trial.

Rogers discovered that Gorman formerly had a partner named Gowen, a relative of Heney, who had held up the prosecutor to him as a model and explained the good work he was doing.
This, however, had not affected his mind in any way and he asserted that he had never been either a supporter or an advocate of the graft prosecution. He declared that he had not had time to read much in the papers and had paid but little attention to the graft disclosures, when the usual legal questions came up,
said he was positive that if he were in Graham's place he would be willing to accept a fury of men to his own condition of mind.

Passed by Rogers

Graham refused to let the question go on, but he was forced to submit to an examination. That fact, however, would not influence him in any way at all. After a brief examination, he apparently agreed to accept O'Gara as his attorney and went along to the Assistant District Attorney.

O'Gara had liked the manner of the selected juror, Gorman, particularly regarding the exact state of mind of Graham. He appeared to be unequal to what tactics to adopt, and as to whether or not he should try and disqualify him.

As to Partner

He was passed by the defense, and O'Gara inquired in some detail regarding his present partner, a man named Bennett, but he was unable to disclose the exact details.

He had told Rogers that he felt that immunity had been too liberally bestowed, but when counsel pressed him on that point he had not been able to make out any reason why the free bill of lading promised to Ruet would not influence him in any way, nor would he be affected by the graft disclosures, when the usual legal questions came up,
said he was positive that if he were in Graham's place he would be willing to accept a fury of men to his own condition
of mind.

Answers Plain

The talesman's answers were straight, without any shade, plain and decisive.
He had no idea whatever as to whether the supervisors had received bribes, but knew they had confessed to having taken money. He did not know if he had heard little discussion on the case, save a remake now and then that it was apparently going to trial, but he did not know if Mr. Graham had ever expressed any feeling of opposition against the prosecution. Inquired counsel:

"One of the opponents against the 'One' in the graft case has been taken, and I have been here to see that there are others who are taking time," was the response.

HARRIMAN PARTY AT PASO ROBLES

Railroad Magnate to Take the Baths There---Gossip in Wall Street

PASO ROBLES, Cal., March 25.—The Harriman special train of five cars arrived at Paso Robles Hot Springs last evening. In the party were E. H. Harriman, Miss Mary Harriman, E. C. Calvin, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Pacific Company; Dr. and Mrs. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Goetz, Dr. McKenzie, Superintendent Ahern of the Coast Division of the Southern Pacific, and a corps of secretaries and clerks. Owing to the inclement weather, the party decided to stay in the train for the night. It is the intention of the party to stay two or three days in order to permit Mr. Harriman to take the baths.

President Louis Hill, of the Great Northern Railroad, accompanied by his family, arrived at Paso Robles Hot Springs in his private car last evening, following the Harriman special. Mr. Hill brought his automobile with him and intends staying at the springs a week or two, taking treatment in the bath house and motoring about the country in this vicinity.

Taking It Easy

From Southern California, where he met E. H. Harriman at Pasadena, Vice-President J. D. Farrell of the Washington and Oregon Railroad came to San Francisco last evening and registered at the St. Francis.

Farrell says there was no significance in his call upon the great magnate, and that there is no more significance in his visit to San Francisco at the present time. He says that Harriman is taking it easy along the coast, and that he is not doing any big scheming at the present time—"just taking it easy."

Wall Street Gossip

NEW YORK, March 25.—A significant feature of the present situation in Wall Street is the fact that almost invariably those who are bullish on Union Pacific shares are not less bullish on New York Central. In many instances long lines of both these stocks are to be found in the account of one individual, and in some good quarters it is thought that the coming plan is to buy out the Union Pacific stockholders, which it is said may be announced within two months, and will provide for a union between the New York Central and Union Pacific, such as was talked about some time ago.

A Big Pool

It is claimed that Harriman's acquisition of the Illinois Central was accomplished in the interest of such a scheme and that the new pool dealing heavily in Union Pacific and New York Central which is said to exist and to continue in its membership E. H. Harriman, John Jacob Astor, the Houseman and Barth Stock Exchange firms, was formed in anticipation of the carrying out of the plan.

It has been decided to move the offices of the Harriman road to the new Grand Central station of the New York Central. This circumstance is at least highly interesting in connection with the suggestion of the Union Pacific-New York Central merger, and it may have great significance as tending to corroborate the story that such a deal is on.

COMPETENT WIRELESS OPERATORS ARE SCARCE

NEW YORK, March 25.—The scarcity of competent wireless operators was emphasized at Hoboken, N. J., yesterday, when authorities of the North German Lloyd line made frantic endeavors to obtain the release of Kurt Schleider, the operator on the steamer Friedrich Wilhelm, who was arrested in Hoboken yesterday on a charge of exhibiting a pistol in the streets. Jack Binns, the hero of the Republic disaster, was sent by the Marconi company to plead for Schleider, but the magistrate declined to find the offender and ordered that he be locked up till the grand jury could hear his case. A representative of the North German Lloyd line said that Schleider's detention probably would mean that the Friedrich Wilhelm will sail unprotected by a wireless operator, but the court remained obdurate.

JEALOUSY LEADS TO SERIOUS STABBING

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Alexander Lohman, a salaried man in the City Club, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, and Frank Knison, a comrade, is in a serious condition at the Harbor Emergency Hospital as the result of a stab wound received in this city. His only son died here last evening.

Knison lived in Sacramento in his younger days, where he was associated with the Odd Fellows' bank. Twenty-four years ago he came to this city and became influential in Odd Fellow circles here, serving for many years as secretary of Enterprise Lodge. During Mayor Olney's administration, he was secretary to the board of Health. Later he was appointed county expert by the Board of Supervisors and held that office for several years. He was at one time a member of the First Congregational church choir.

Funeral services will be held at noon at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, and the remains will be shipped to Sacramento for interment.

C. D. PERRINE LEAVES LICK OBSERVATORY

SAN JOSE, March 25.—Charles D. Perrine, of the Lick Observatory staff, has been called to the directorship of the Argentine Republic's national observatory at Cordoba. He plans to leave in the southern hemisphere. He was in charge of the Creek helped to observe the Sun in 1901, and was chief assistant to Instructor Campbell at the solar eclipse of 1900 in Georgia, 1905 in Spain and 1908 in Flint Island.

Oregon Official Threatens to Arrest Aoki and Fiancee as Common Nuisances

JAPANESE JOINS PROMISED BRIDE

Northern State Promises
"Warm" Welcome to Miss
Emery and Youth

deacon Emery of California, and Aoki, her Japanese lover, attempt to obtain a marriage license in Oregon as reported, they will find that the path of love, as far as mixed marriages of that sort is concerned, does not run very smoothly in Oregon. They will not be permitted to wed in this State for the very good reason that the law of the State of Oregon forbids the marriage of whites with Orientals.

May Be Arrested

Nor will the stay of Miss Emery and Aoki be one of unsullied bliss in Portland, even if they do not attempt to obtain a right to marry from the license clerk. The district attorney announced today that should they appear on the streets of Portland arm in arm, as is the wont of true lovers, that they will be arrested as common nuisances. There is a statute prepared on extremely broad lines which permits the district attorney to make such arrests. In his judgment, such an necessity, and he says, he will not be at all backward in exerting his authority should Aoki and his American fiancee attempt to walk the streets of Portland together.

It is reported that the Aoki-Emery party will proceed northward to Tacoma or Spokane or Seattle in their efforts to find someone to pronounce the words which will make Aoki and Miss Emery husband and wife.

Races Will Not Mix

That the two races will ever mix I do not believe possible, but I believe it possible for individuals of the two races to find happiness if they are people of intelligence, comprehending one another's views of life, in sympathy with each other's ideals and having the patience to tolerate the difference in the point of view which will of necessity be greater than in an ordinary marriage.

Real happiness cannot be attained by those who are constantly listening to the voice of their neighbors, but it can sometimes be maintained despite the voice of the outer world.

A Japanese and a white woman from Hollywood, Cal., stopped in Portland en route to Boise, where they intended to wed, and were arrested on what appears to have been a trumped-up charge, but which served a purpose, as after the arrest of the white woman she decided not to marry the Japanese and started for her home in California.

DISCHARGED FOR VIOLATING RULES

R. W. Lovelace, Hero and Southern Pacific Fireman
Is Let Out

R. W. Lovelace, in the employ of the Southern Pacific for nine years, has been officially discharged. He was dismissed for having violated the rule of the company which forbids assigning to a money lender wages due from the company. Recently Lovelace came into prominence in saving the lives of two children who were on the track directly in front of his engine. Not very long ago Lovelace caused the arrest of Miss Anna E. Lee, a young lady from the village of Folsom, who paid him a promissory note for $150. She had placed it in a collector's hands with an assignment of Lovelace's wages. Lovelace admitted that he had borrowed money from Mrs. Lee but repaid her.

Mrs. Lee's testimony in the police court maintained that the note was genuine but that another man by the name of R. W. Lovelace had endorsed it.

FORMER SECRETARY OF HEALTH BOARD DIES

Harry K. Snow, former secretary of the Board of Health, well known lodge member and politician, died at the Hotel Raymond, 1025 Jefferson street yesterday, at the age of 78 years. The deceased was a native of Indiana and leaves here his beloved wife.

Snow lived in Sacramento in his younger days, where he was associated with the Odd Fellows' bank. Twenty-four years ago he came to this city and became influential in Odd Fellow circles here, serving for many years as secretary of Enterprise Lodge. During Mayor Olney's administration, he was secretary to the board of Health. Later he was appointed county expert by the Board of Supervisors and held that office for several years. He was at one time a member of the First Congregational church choir.

Funeral services will be held at noon at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, and the remains will be shipped to Sacramento for interment.

ADVENTIST CHURCH TO HOLD BUSINESS MEETING

The Church of the Advent, in East Oakland, will hold a business meeting next Sunday morning after the services for the purpose of considering the project of a new church. In case the proposition is practical the system of renting pews will be abolished. Weekly pences will be substituted if the system meets with approval.

Throughout the holy week services will be held. On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday there will be services beginning at 10:30, and on Wednesday afternoon one beginning at 4. Friday morning there will be a matin service at 10:30 and also a three-hour service lasting from 12 to 3, in commemoration of the three hours on the cross.

SKIPS LEAVING DEBTS BEHIND HIM IS BELIEF

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Leaving $600 worth of debts, notes for $1500 indorsed by Sam Bernhard of the Hoffman Cafe, and nearly $600 worth of checks drawn on a bank in which he had no account, E. H. Barker, 26, of the Barker Tie and Mantel Company, has deserted. It is said his business in the city and has fled to Spokane, Wash. He was a prominent and popular young man. His debts amount to $1,200. Barker, a relative of Charles Shely, the secretary of the local department of the Knights of Columbus, wife of the well-known business man, is in the dark as to his whereabouts. Miss McCleod, secretary of the concern, is said to be in Barker's company.

NOTHING COUNTS BUT CHARACTER, SAYS WHITE FIANCÉE OF AOKI

By Helen Gladys Emery

If rocks, housing and heating on the one is an expression of American sentiment and public feeling, it is small wonder that I can feel only contempt for the ignorance that displays itself in such ways. Our departure from Corte Madera was attended by all these, a shower of decayed flowers, rice and small stones. The people who so indulged themselves were, I believe, a fair sample of that class of citizens which prizes little private affairs with which they have no legitimate concern.

Probably not one person in the crowd at the Corte Madera station could have given an intelligent reason for the hooliganism. It was an exhibition of low race hatred felt by uneducated people, incapable of understanding anything or anyone on another level than theirs.

Nothing Counts but Character

It had not occurred to me before experiencing the publicity following the announcement of my engagement to Mr. Aoki that the marriage of two persons in private life, no matter what their nationality, could arouse so much criticism. I cannot yet believe that among educated people it can have occasioned more than a passing thought.

As Christians, we believe that nothing counts but the character of the individual, neither nationality, nor rank, nor wealth, but only character. Perhaps I should say that, as Christians, we are taught to believe it, for it is sometimes borne home that there are but few Christians, or else those who profess Christianity hold but laxly to their belief.

Puerile and Ruffian

That a man who in intelligence and moral depth is the equal of any born in America, the superior of so many, should, because he was born in Japan, be forbidden by a public, largely of foreign birth, to marry the woman of his choice because she is an American, is puerile and ruffian. It is statistic prepared on extremely broad lines which permits the district attorney to make such arrests.

It is the truth I am thoroughly convinced of that the intermarriage of Japanese and Americans are of foreign parentage of birth. That the Japanese should protest against the marriage of the ruffian, such as formed the Corte Madera incident, is not to be wondered at. They should be condemned for their foolishness to maintain the higher standards of decency, and dignity among themselves.

Races Will Not Mix

That the two races will ever mix I do not believe possible, but I believe it possible for individuals of the two races to find happiness if they are people of intelligence, comprehending one another's views of life, in sympathy with each other's ideals and having the patience to tolerate the difference in the point of view which will of necessity be greater than in an ordinary marriage.

Holds Key to Happiness

For the rest, I believe I hold the key to happiness—the true happiness, which also upholds work and services for one's fellows. And perhaps the folly and brutality of all this commotion will come home to the true decent and right-minded public and in the end something will be achieved towards raising the tone of public taste and in creating a more decent public sentiment.

I believe that such children will find in America many a field of honorable activity and perhaps touch to Americans some lessons in the Oriental virtues of dignity and self-restraint, of which we stand greatly in need.

America ever stood for freedom, that freedom has been debased until we catch it in the hands of the public.

In America ever stood for free thinking, that freedom has disappeared and the public follows the utterances of demagogues.

It is the truth that the world contains almost no disengaged intellect to hold a public sentiment of the sort that finds expression in anonymous letters, hooting, throning, stones and threats against life.

What Will Become of Children?

I believe that such children will find in America many a field of honorable activity and perhaps touch to Americans some lessons in the Oriental virtues of dignity and self-restraint, of which we stand greatly in need.

ACQUITTAL OF MRS. E. DUDEN CAUSES A STORM OF HISSES

WOMAN CALM AS VERDICT IS READ

Husband of the Murderess Weeps While She Smiles at Her Friends

SAN DIEGO. March 25.—The acquittal of Mrs. Ertle Duden yesterday by a jury on the charge of murdering Bruce Sheffler, husband of Mrs. Duden's dead sister, has caused considerable comment here.

The verdict, when delivered in court, brought forth a storm of hisses, and repeated calls for order failed to restore quiet for some time. As the hooting ceased Mrs. Duden relatives and friends from all sections of the court room began cheering and clapping their hands and the room finally had to be cleared.

Smiles at Friends.

Mrs. Duden received the verdict calmly. She stood up and turned toward her husband, who, giving way to his feelings, took his wife in his arms and repeatedly embraced her. He broke down and wept, but there was not a tear in the woman's eyes.

On leaving the court she received the congratulations of her friends and attorneys in a cool manner, smiling the while.

Her plea was self-defense.

add woman is calm.

acquittal of mrs. Duden

Case for Prosecution.

The State contended that it was a deliberate plot to murder. When the trial was begun witnesses for the State told of the confession Mrs. Duden had made that she shot Sheffler because he tried to knock the pistol out of her hand.

One witness told of finding a woman's switch in the room, scattered in different parts of the room. Another State witness swore she had fled down stairs immediately after Sheffler had staggered out, and look up and down the street, and then go back up stairs. Another said he saw Mrs. Duden look out before the police arrived. All who heard the shots testified that there was an interval between the first two and the third shot. This last shot, the State showed, had been fired down the stairway, the prosecution contending that it was fired at the fleeing man.

Contention of Defense.

The defense alleged that Sheffler had attempted to induce Mrs. Duden to sign over her share in his dead wife's estate to him, and that when she refused to do so, he grabbed her by the throat and choked her so that she retched and then he followed her up, after which when she reached the chandelier upon which was his revolver, she picked it up and when he continued to advance she shot him. The last shot down the stairway was accounted for by Duden testifying that when she came out of the room after Sheffler had fled down stairs, mortally wounded, he had called to her to stop, which so startled her that she stumbled, the revolver being accidentally discharged.

The prosecution in rebuttal produced doctors who swore Mrs. Duden's throat showed no signs of having been choked and other witnesses who told of the character of Mrs. Duden when she resided in Ottumwa, Iowa, officers from that city testifying that her reputation there was not good.

The case extended through two weeks, the introduction of evidence being concluded Saturday, March 20th, at noon Monday the attorneys for the prosecution began their opening argument, followed by counsel for the defense.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEEDS YOU, SAYS STEARNS

And You Need the Chamber of Commerce

By EDWIN STEARNS, Secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. Asking citizens if they belong to the Oakland Chamber of Commerce is equivalent to asking them if they feel any pride in the progress of their city. It's only another way of asking the same question.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce needs you on its list of members. You are already on the roll, you should consider it both a pleasure and a duty to see to it that you induce others to follow your good example.

Profitable Advertising Campaign can be conducted with $6000 a month. That is a total of $60,000 per year. An ordinary business firm with a stock value of half-a-million dollars and doing a business of three-quarters of a million per year, usually spends in advertising about $25,000. It would not be at all inappropriate for a city with its innumerable attractions and permanent assets to pay for publicity in the same proportion as is paid by private concerns.

There should be no limit to the membership in the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. It has been generally supposed that its membership should be largely confined to merchant's and industrial concerns generally. This is the rankest folly. Every doctor, lawyer, architect, public official, school teacher, clergymen and every professional man or woman should consider it a privilege to pay the very small membership of one dollar a month.

All Interests Benefited.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce is charged with the stupendous duty of telling the entire world of all the advantages offered to real estate investors and manufacturers. To carry out this big task, a reasonable amount of money is necessary. An effort is now being made to raise the membership to five thousand. This ought to be an easy task—it will be an easy task if you do your share.

Needs $5000 a Month.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce needs a fixed monthly income of at least $5000. If it has 5000 members paying monthly dues of one dollar each, this sum will be easily secured.

There are a number of corporations, firms and individuals who have agreed to pay from ten dollars to one hundred dollars a month for the next year provided that a healthy interest is shown by citizens generally. This is great encouragement to those who have "Chamber of Commerce week" in charge.

The leaders in this movement are working hard and long and are giving of their time, money and effort most generously because they realize that the future of Oakland depends very largely on the kind of publicity that it sends out at this particular time in its history.

Work Accomplished.

At this day there is no need to look for inspiration from the ideas that prevailed in the days of the first five trustees of Oakland's city government. In these days and for perhaps a generation afterwards one could frequently hear "How great God has done for Oakland and how little man has done."

We have no need to refer to the Creator's part of it any longer. Man has already begun to do his duty and we can talk of many large projects already accomplished and man more than have been actually commenced.

All we want now is for the Chamber of Commerce to be put into such a healthy financial condition that it can get to work and tell the world what we are and not what we hope to be.

And see to it that you do your share.

EDWIN STEARNS, Secretary, Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

John E. McElroy--In Memoriam.

The death of John E. McElroy, for six years past our capable and faithful City Attorney, has grieved the entire community. Rarely does a man die so universally mourned, so universally conceded to be scrupulously honorable in all his dealings, whether public or private, and so kindly and useful in all the relations of life. The widespread feeling that his death is a substantial loss to the community is the highest proof of his value as a citizen and a public official.

Mr. McElroy was a fine example of clean, healthy, useful manhood. As citizen and public servant he merited the unfeigned respect of the public, and it was accorded to him generously. With esteem went popular affection. People generally felt a pride in his talents and the useful and upright ways of their employment. He can have no better eulogy than the fact that his friends are under no necessity to conceal, explain or apologize for any act in his career. At first glance this statement seems quite simple, but the more it is examined the greater its significance appears. It is an epitaph that can be truthfully written on the tombs of few men. It is true of John McElroy. His virtues do not have to be magnified that his faults may be minimized or obscured.

It cannot be said that Mr. McElroy was a brilliant man or that his talents were of the showy order. There was nothing spectacular about him. But he was a man above the ordinary in every way. His attainments, like his virtues and talents, were of the solid order, and he employed them for the betterment of social and political conditions, for building up a bigger and a better city and a better society. He was a wholesome influence in his environment. He did his duty at all times, modestly and quietly as becomes a gentleman; and while holding to a rigid code of ethics and following a strictly correct rule of personal conduct he was courteously tolerant of the opinions of others and had a gentle charity for faults and failings he did not himself possess. He let his own moral cleanliness speak its praise by example, never by detraction of others or invidious comparisons to his own credit. His daily life was a character lesson, a moral stimulant, an exhortation to honor, sobriety and useful endeavor. It is a profound pity that he should be cut down in the flower of a manhood richly endowed with high qualities and animated by noble purposes.

Repeated election to public office is not invariably a testimony to character, but it was with John E. McElroy. A Democrat who never concealed or apologized for his opinions and who never forsook his party communion, he was four times elected to the second most important office in the city in which his party is in a hopeless minority. His fidelity to public trust and devotion to public duty were so signalized as to demonstrate that in the last two elections his name was placed on the Republican ticket without compromise or surrender of his political convictions. Twice previously he had defeated at the polls Republican candidates of ability, high standing and irreproachable character. It is worth remembering that he never said an unkind word of his opponents and held their friendship up to the hour of his death. Today they will be among the readiest to testify to his worth and the service he has rendered the city.

It is a fact not generally known to the public that Mr. McElroy heartily desired to lay down the cares of office, and intended to do so at the close of the term closed by his untimely death, and only consented to be a candidate again from a sense of the duty he owed the community that had so signalized him and from a feeling of loyalty to his associates in the city government. He had labored with them to develop municipal enterprises of great magnitude. Sharing their efforts in behalf of civic betterment, and ardently devoted to the interests of the city which held the dearest associations of his youth and manhood, he felt that duty called him to renounce personal inclinations and sacrifice professional emolument for the time being. Knowing the attacks on them were baseless and unjust, he loyally stood with them in the campaign. Probably he answered the call of citizenship at the cost of his life, for in all likelihood his death resulted from the exposure and arduous labors of the campaign. But he died on the firing line of civic obligation, and the grief that his friends feel is mitigated by the consoling knowledge that he leaves behind an untarnished name and an example worthy of admiration and emulation.

As son and husband Mr. McElroy emphasized the virtues he exemplified as a citizen and a public official. The nobleness and simplicity of his life in this respect can hardly be excelled. To his friends he leaves a rich legacy in the affection and esteem he won from his fellowmen, who honored, respected and trusted him, and who today feel a genuine sorrow at his loss.

Bryce's Charter Day Address.

It is a noteworthy fact that THE TRIBUNE is the only newspaper in the State that published in full the Charter Day address delivered by British Ambassador James Bryce at the Greek Theater of the State University. THE TRIBUNE was, in fact, the only California newspaper to recognize the true worth of Dr. Bryce's scholarly tribute to California. There was nothing in the address strained or overdrawn. It was, in fact, a compact and discriminating presentation of the State's physical and educational progress.

The address was never intended, of course, to be used as an advertisement of California abroad. But it certainly could be so used and turned to advantageous account. The reader of it cannot fail to be impressed by the sincerity, unselfishness and impartiality of Bryce's observations of the developments that have taken place since the distinguished visitor was here before and of his forecast of California's future possibilities.

Few public addresses have been delivered in many years past as well calculated to promote California's best interests abroad as this Charter Day address. It has the merit of embodying the impressions of a keen and discriminating observer, distinguished in letters, politics and diplomacy, whose name and fame are familiar wherever the English language is spoken. THE TRIBUNE has started the circulation abroad of this friendly tribute, but it remains for the promotion organizations to turn it to its larger usefulness by spreading it broadcast over the land to exploit California's physical and educational attractions.

The success of the good county roads bonding proposition for $1,800,000 adopted by San Joaquin County prompts the Calaveras Prospect to urge the authorization of a $200,000 bond issue for the improvement of the highways in that county. The value of good county roads cannot be overestimated, and every county is justified in making posterity carry a part of the burden of building them.

President Taft's parting gift to ex-President Roosevelt was a gold pen. Persons in the habit of detecting deep significance in small things may discern in this gift a subtle intimation that the donor would prefer any suggestions from his predecessor as to how the government should be run to be made in writing.

Conquest of the South Pole.

The extraordinary success of the Shackleton Antarctic expedition is sure to give a wonderful impetus to south polar exploration. Lieutenant Shackleton and his party started from the edge of the Antarctic icefield at Cape Boyd, where the steamship Nimrod, under his command, was anchored, and with sledges drawn by four ponies, struck south for the pole across the rough and mountainous polar continent, following as nearly as could be the 168th meridian. The start was made on October 29, 1908, and on January 9, 1909, the party reached latitude 88 degrees and 23 minutes, longitude 162 east, having crossed several mountain ranges and one plateau 9000 feet above sea level, when the party was compelled to retrace its steps. It returned to the ship safely without the loss of a man.

This branch of the expedition came practically within sight of the south pole, which was only 111 miles from the point where Shackleton and his men turned back. No previous Antarctic expedition had been able to reach a point further south than 70 degrees 58 minutes. The party, therefore, made 17 degrees and 33 minutes more south during the trip than any one had succeeded in doing before. It was absent from the ship 126 days and traveled 1760 miles.

Almost as remarkable an achievement was accomplished by another party through the location of the southern magnetic pole, which was the work assigned to it. This achievement is considered of the greatest value to navigation.

While the purpose of the expedition was not for the gratification of an ambition to reach the pole, it came so near doing it that the achievement is among the possibilities of the near future. The feasibility of reaching the pole has been amply proved by the expedition. The main purpose was to ascertain the character of the south polar continent and this part of its mission as well as that fixing the position of the magnetic pole has been successfully performed. An immense amount of data of the highest geographical and geological value has been gathered by the expedition. The complete success of the latter and the knowledge of the polar region it has obtained is sure to result in another expedition being outfitted at once to follow the line of march of the Shackleton party and continue it to the actual pole itself. There are plenty of adventurous spirits ready to volunteer to carry it out.

"But we do not admit that any corporation can bribe an honest man," said Gavin McNab in an address before the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco. Never was a truer thing said or better said. Before this sharp epigram a vast structure of sophistry and meretricious special pleading collapses like a punctured bladder. Bribery is bribery, whether practiced by corporations or individuals, and is neither to be tolerated nor condoned. But no amount of sophistry can disguise the fact that an honest man cannot be bribed, and that opportunity rather than temptation develops and quickens the cupidity of the thief. It is the experience of everyday life that the man who is false to his oath and his trust will not be true to his bribe or to anything but the instinct of self-preservation. The notion that he is a victim rather than a criminal is vicious and should be discouraged. It merely furnishes an excuse for other scoundrels to harter away honor and public right, sell them to the highest bidder, and then confess somebody else to be the criminals, throw the blame on other shoulders, keep the proceeds of their villainy, go unwhipped of justice and be rehabilitated among their neighbors as men of truth and honor. It is a plea for dishonesty and unfeeling avarice, for perfidy as well as bribery, for shameless breaches of the highest trust of citizenship. It shrives and absolves every venal traitor in office, every rogue who enriches himself by bribery and blackmail while acting as the sworn custodian of the interests he sells and betrays and the power he utilizes to extort blackmail. Mr. McNab pierces to the marrow the false theory that the bribery of public officials is the corruption of honest men by designing villains when he says no corporation can bribe an honest man.

The showery weather of the present week makes doubly sure the certainty of good crops for the whole State this year.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

People will nearly always tell the truth when they can make something by doing it.

The hardest lesson to learn in life is that you never learn any worth much of anything.

Generally a man who thinks he is witty is about as successful at entertaining you as a nail in your shoe.

The average man seems to think the best way to get ahead in the world is to hold some other fellow back.

The more money a man could make investing it in a good thing the surer it would be not to be a good thing if he had to invest.

PRESIDENT TAFT GOES THROUGH HIS BIG CHAIR

WASHINGTON, March 25.—President Taft severed another link connecting him with the Roosevelt administration yesterday when, as ex-President Roosevelt was swilling out of New York harbor for Africa, the President broke the chair formerly occupied by his predecessor. Early today the chair was borne from the White House and sent to a local shop for repairs.

The chair taken from the executive offices today was a large mahogany swivel chair.

NOTE AND EXCERPT

Cleopatra: The dutifulness of this iron is like your Westermans of the '70s. They have a delicious humor and a mocking scepticism. The bishop of Ballarat rode one night into a little township of his diocese that he had never visited before. It was late and rainy. The only building with a light in it was the office of the local paper, and the bishop knocked on the door with his crook stick. "Hello below" cried a voice, and a head popped out of the window. "I am the bishop of Ballarat," said the prelate mildly. "Will you be so good as to direct me to a hotel?" From a roomful of compositors came a loud burst of laughter, and another man stuck out his head and said to the bishop in a tone of kindly reproach: "Look here, old man; you've had about enough hotel for one night! Go on home and go to bed, or you'll get run in as sure as shootin'."

But why should Mr. Harriman build a line of railway through Old Men Central America to Panama? Depend upon it, Mr. Harriman has some more subtle motive than enabling us to watch the ships go through.

Hicks Smith declares that Democratic sentiment is unanimous that other than Mr. Bryan must lead the party in 1912. Following the same line of thought, a little further, the democrat who is up-and-coming, and who displays some capacity for real leadership, is Champ Clark of Missouri.

Seated opposite the late James McNeill Whistler at dinner one evening was a patronizing young lord. During a lull in the conversation he adjusted his monocle and leaned forward toward the artist. "Aw, y' know, Mr. Whistler," he brayed. "I painted your house this n' wining." "Thank you," said Whistler, quietly. "Thank you very much."

"Many stories have been told of Cipriano Castro, exiled president of Venezuela, and of his monumental conceit," said Dr. T. H. McLaughlin of San Francisco. "During the Russo-Japanese war the fall of Port Arthur was being extolled to him. 'Pshaw!' he exclaimed.

"With 500 Venezuelans I could have taken it in four days." "With 1000 in one day, our Excellency," said the diplomatic representative of a European power. "It was so pleased that it is sold the diplomat succeeded the next day in procuring the payment of a claim that his government had been vainly pressing for years."

Free speech is all right if you don't get too free with it.

Well-balanced people are careful to weigh their words.

No truly great man needs a brass band to herald his coming.

It isn't easy for a learned man to learn to love a learned woman.

A grass widow knows enough to make hay while the sun shines.

No man was ever known to forgive another for stopping on his pet corn.

If you have time to waste you can afford to argue with a man who is in love.

I sometimes happens that a woman has an attentive husband and doesn't know it.

The heads of some people are capable of generating more noise than a brass drum.

No, Cordells, a man doesn't necessarily bait his breath for the purpose of catching it.

A man would rather be held up by strangers than thrown down by his friends.

After leaving college many a bachelors has taken a post-graduate course by marrying a widow.

When a man begins to make flowery speeches it's up to the woman in the case to nip them in the bud.

MUSIC AND FUN ON BELL BILL

Accordion Player Proves Strong Attraction at Vaudeville Theater

MONS. J. W. VALLE,
America's Greatest Accordianist, at the Bell Theater.

An accordion player is an attraction that seldom finds a place on a vaudeville bill, and one with the unusual ability displayed by J. W. Valle, who is at the Bell Theater this week, is seldom met with anywhere. Lovers of music and especially to those who enjoy this old-fashioned instrument, the art of the musical performer will be greatly appreciated. His selections run the gamut from the most difficult classics to the more popular airs and gavottes executed with the technique of the artist. His opening number, "Post and Pendant," is charmingly rendered and the rest of his program seems to strike a strong sympathetic chord in his auditors, his sympathies are in evidence.

Then there is an act entitled "I Handcuffed in Dogville," in which Cain's clever little canines do the acting. Their pantomime sketch takes on the air of a semi-tragedy affair, in which the fate of an unfortunate male is depicted, but at all there is plenty of opportunity for laughs at the comical human-like antics of these dumb brutes. The setting used by Manager Cain in his presentation is deserving of more than passing comment.

Acrobats "Please"

The Borishni troupe of acrobats have an astonishing exhibition of gymnastics executed on huge globes that give these performers a very unstable footing and renders their act exceedingly difficult. The special Lenten attraction, "The Sexton's Dream," has excited great interest and admiration from all who have witnessed it; its spectacular scenic effects with the rich tones of the great organ, combined with the sweet singing of the grizzled sexton makes it at once an exceedingly high-class and most novel offering.

Tom Bradford is there with the big comedy hit of the bill. He styles himself "The Human Band" and lives up to his billing byimitating with surprising results a number of musical instruments. Onetta, the whirling Dervish dancer, scores a pronounced hit in her graceful and bewildering evolutions, and the excellent pictures on the Belle Vue add much to the enjoyment of the program.

MIGHTY LIBERAL WITH U. S. FUNDS

New Congressman Wants Colorado Dotted With National Buildings

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Because Colorado is the "Nation's playground," according to Ex-President Roosevelt, Representative Taylor of that State has introduced a bill appropriating $250,000 for the erection of an executive mansion at Glenwood Springs, Colo. This building will be for the use of the President and his family during the summer months. Glenwood is near the scene of Mr. Roosevelt's hunt in 1897. Taylor, who is a new member of the House, is quite liberal with bills that seek to provide public buildings for his district. He wants a postoffice, land office, forestry service and other federal offices provided with a building at Glenwood Springs. In addition, he wants a monument erected to the memory of General Denver, and an agricultural experiment station. He also has introduced a bill providing for the expenditure of $400,000 for the erection of monuments over the graves of deceased ex-Presidents.

SPEAKER STANTON SAYS HE'S OUT OF POLITICS

SACRAMENTO, March 25.—Speaker Bill Stanton of the Assembly answered the numerous suggestions of himself as gubernatorial possibility by announcing from the floor that his political career was at an end. In fact, he has told his closest friends that he would start with two friends upon a tour of the world at the time when California casts about for the next nominee for the governor's seat.

"I hope my political work and my activities in public life are at an end," he said today. "I do not expect ever again to appear in a public office of any kind. In leaving behind my life in politics and the memories of this Assembly chamber, where I have worked for many years, I must say that there is with a feeling of relief, although there is about it a slight sensation of regret."

Stanton was presented with a handsome chest of silverware. Ex-Speaker Beardmore of Stockton made the presentation speech.

Danderine is quickly and thoroughly absorbed by the scalp and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and hair-producing qualities. It is pleasant and easy to use—simply apply it to the scalp and hair once a day until the hair begins to grow, then two or three times a week till desired results are obtained.

A lady from California writes in substance as follows:
I have been using your Danderine for a month and it has blessed me with a wonderful growth of hair that measures 1 1/2 inches in diameter. The braid is over 6 inches around.

Another from New Jersey:
After using Danderine I am happy to say that I have as nice a head of hair as anyone in New Jersey.

This Great Hair-Growing Remedy can now be had at all drugists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

The dam is not a storage basin, but a diversion weir, which allows the water to pass through gates on either side of the river into main channels from which many laterals and ditches will extend over about 130,000 acres under the Yuma project.

Work on the dam was commenced in July, 1905. The dam is 470 feet long.

HEART—TRIBUNE'S PAGE FOR WOMEN—HOME

Only Woman in Country Who Can Make Laws Is a Bold and Strenuous Fighter

DENVER, March 25.—Mrs. Alma Lafferty is the only woman in America who has a legal right to help make the laws for other women. She is a member of the Colorado Legislature and represents a Denver district. She is on several committees, and is a very busy woman.

"How did I come to go into politics?" she said, repeating a query.

"I didn't go in them; I was in them, I couldn't help it."

"The woman's club of Denver has been working for public baths and public playgrounds for a long time.

"Mayor Speer gave us those public playgrounds and helped to give us the public baths.

"Then, when next election came around, I thought every woman in the State ought to throw her influence for the man who had done so much for the women and children of the State."

"And I said so. I kept saying so, and by and by the Democrats came and asked me if I would run for the Legislature on their ticket."

"I said I would. I ran, and I was elected—that's all there is to that."

"The women elected me, the men scratched me."

"When I first came in I talked with the different committees of which I am a member, and told them that I had come into the Legislature to do some honest work; that I believed I could do better than any man could do it, because it was work that concerned women and children.

"I also told them that I didn't want any consideration on account of my being a woman. All I expected or wanted was decent, square, honest treatment. If I made a fool of myself, I said, over bill, I expect to be called a fool, and I shan't run home and cry about it, either."

"I have had some pretty sharp fights over some of my bills, but they were all honest, aboveboard fights; and there was no malice or anything mean or personal about them."

"I am chairman of the education committee, and I think there always should be a woman chairman of that committee."

Girl Stricken Dumb When Her Fiance Is Married

SYRACUSE, March 25.—Stricken dumb when she learned on Friday that her fiance had married another, Miss Belle Raum, of No. 424 Harrison street, seventeen years old, it was not been able to speak a word since. Dr. J. B. Neelman attributes her loss of speech to hysteria, and until this morning she was in a state of coma. This morning the physician questioned her, and although she was unable to speak, she could write her answers to his inquiries.

The physician says that a sudden shock may restore the girl's speech, but as yet no attempt has been made to shock or frighten her. In the Supreme Court today Justice Irving R. Devendorf appointed her brother, George Raum, her guardian ad litem to bring an action against her former suitor for breach of promise.

The man who is to be sued is William Meyer of Liverpool. On Thursday he and Miss King of the same village were married in Buffalo.

Upon hearing of the wedding Miss Raum went to Buffalo and it was while on her way home on a train that she collapsed. On her arrival in Syracuse she was taken home in an ambulance.

According to a summons and complaint served on Meyer, he promised on February 4 to marry the girl on February 15, and then the date was postponed until March 8, only to again be put off. Then the complaint alleges Miss Raum, her father and the bridegroom were to have gone to the City Hall for a marriage license yesterday.

At the hearing today the girl, when questioned, wrote the following on a piece of paper: "Please don't say anything about Willie. I loved him so. He was always so good to me. Only if you can ask him just to come in and see me once. If I could only be with him for a moment I would be all right again, I love him so."

Half Billion Chorus Is Again Invaded by Cupid

PITTSBURG.—The engagement of Miss Virginia Frew, one of the wealthy young women of Pittsburgh, to Thurston Wright, a young man of small means connected with a Pittsburgh banking house, has been announced, and a society is wondering what the effects of the "half billion dollar chorus" in Pittsburgh last June will end.

The marriage of Miss Frew will be the fourth resulting in part from the remarkable rehearsal for "The Pirates of Penzance," which was given here by the rich young people of Pittsburgh, the combined wealth of whose parents was close to $500,000.

Miss Frew, a daughter of William N. Frew, personal representative of Andrew Carnegie here, was of this rich chorus, and Wright, as her escort, also took part. The first sensation of the chorus came when Miss Lucille Roessing, who had been engaged to lead the chorus, eloped with Paul E. Crittley of Denver, Dr. Maillard Alexander, her father, refusing to marry them.

During the production of the play the engagement of Marjorie Rea, another of the chorus and daughter of one of Pittsburgh's rich men, to Shugert Laughlin, another heir to millions, was announced from the stage. They have since married.

Sally Hall, daughter of a Southern war hero, who was in the chorus, captivated William Schafe, a young man of millions, who wore a shepherd's plaid in the show, and they eloped some months ago from the South to Chicago, from where they telephoned Mamma Scafe in Pittsburgh for forgiveness.

Gown With 500 Buttons; Waist Line Six Inches Above the Knee—Latest

NEW YORK, March 25.—This has been a busy week for President Elizabeth A. C. White of the Dressmakers' Protective Association.

Miss White has a figure with the capacity to wear the "Maven Age" gown, the sensational costume promised for the spring which has the waist line "some six inches above the knee."

Gowns of Middle Ages

It looks exactly like the dresses worn by Julia Marlowe or Minnie Melba as Julia. It even has the fancy separate pocket suspended at one side, which, as Miss White explained to me, was used "to hold pennies to give to the poor people."

You see, the waist is brought away down and the skirt laid in five pleats under it. The one model the waist comes down to a point in front and is of normal length in the back. In another a corslet effect is produced by heavy banding with soutache braid.

A feature of the "Maven Age" dress, besides the separate hanging pocket, which is made of the same material as the gown, is a big buckle worn at the breast, and showing wonderful combinations of red and blue and gold.

"Another style," continued Miss White, "is the 'clerical.' It is made to look as much like the French priest's robe as possible, and has many buttons. Why, I will have one dress on exhibition with 500 buttons on it. Another feature of this dress is the stole which forms a part of the corsage in front, but extends over the shoulders in the back in two pieces that reach to the bottom of the gown."

"These stoles have a foundation of combed flower cretonne. Then they are covered with net to match the gown, and any part of the floral design you fancy is picked out in hand embroidery on the net."

"Tea Green" a Favorite

The favorite color for street wear is called tea green. Then there is a new mustard shade known as khaki d'or.

"In the pastel shades the favorites will be 'peach blossom' and 'cloud blue' and 'cloud gray.' Raw silks and a new diagonal silk crepe will be the preferred materials."

"Of course, the great novelty is the Moyen age gown, I suppose you know?" Miss White confidingly explained.

"It follows the costume lines worn by the fashionable women of the tenth, eleventh and twelfth French centuries."

I didn't know what a "French century" was, having a stupid idea that all nations looked alike to Father Time. But I didn't interrupt the oracle to inquire, and she continued:

"The new style requires corsets five inches longer than last year." Miss White mentioned a special corset (which shall be nameless, except to say it is one recommended by the pattern company, which shall also be nameless), which the dressmakers' convention advertises, and here I shouldered the load and came out.

Of casting from me God's great gift of time?

Shall I, these mists of memory locked within,

Leave and forget life's purposes sublime?

—Frances Anne Kemble.

DAINTY GIRLS OF OLD JAPAN

The Entry of the Geisha.

—London Graphic.

No Japanese dinner-party is complete without the graceful geisha, who are trained from childhood in the arts of conversation, music and dancing. Theirs is the duty to fill the sake-cup, to entertain the guests with their accomplishments, and, in short, to please and charm to the utmost of their power.

Women's Wiles Scare Preachers

CHICAGO, March 25.—I myself have known of a number of most diabolical plots to entrap and ruin men of God who were doing in entire innocence what they deemed to be their duty. These plots are by no means uncommon in down-town Chicago.

This statement was made by the Rev. W. E. Barton, pastor of the Congregational Church of Oak Park. In explaining certain remarks which he had made earlier in the day on "The Ministry and Women" before the Presbyterian ministers' conference in the Ohio building.

A third brother, George Nichols, is frantic from grief, and it is feared that he may lose his reason.

John, George and Robert Nichols were left orphans when Robert, the youngest, was a baby. Several years ago they were separated, the older brothers going into business for themselves.

Last night he had a visit to each of his brothers. At John's farm the elder brother introduced him to Miss Somers, a young neighbor, and the belle of the countryside.

He, too, fell under the spell of her charms. But loyalty to the brother made him conceal his devotion and return to Madison. He never avowed his affection.

"Dear Brother, My sweetheath and I attended wife was buried yesterday."

Robert walked about his home at Madison today as one dazed. He went to East St. Louis in the hope that George might come in to visit him. Disappointed in this, he went back to Madison. He stomped at a drug store and attempted to buy carbolic acid. The druggist, noticing he was agitated, substituted a hamless deodorant, placing a carbolic acid tablet upon it. With this in his hand

Robert went into his foster mother's room just before noon.

As he pulled out the bottle to drink, the mother snatched it out of his hands and poured the contents out of a window.

Robert, without another word, went into a kitchen. A search disclosed a bottle of carbolic acid that had been used as a disinfectant. Robert went into the dining room, where there were several dishes. With a cut good-bye, he dashed the contents of the bottle. The men tried to seize him, he ran out of the house, up the street a few yards, swayed and fell. A few moments later he was dead.

Robert, apparently interrupted. It read:

"Dear Brother, My sweetheath and I attended wife was buried yesterday."

Robert walked about his home at Madison today as one dazed. He went to East St. Louis in the hope that George might come in to visit him. Disappointed in this, he went back to Madison. He stomped at a drug store and attempted to buy carbolic acid. The druggist, noticing he was agitated, substituted a hamless deodorant, placing a carbolic acid tablet upon it. With this in his hand

Robert went into his foster mother's room just before noon.

As he pulled out the bottle to drink, the mother snatched it out of his hands and poured the contents out of a window.

Robert, without another word, went into a kitchen. A search disclosed a bottle of carbolic acid that had been used as a disinfectant. Robert went into the dining room, where there were several dishes. With a cut good-bye, he dashed the contents of the bottle. The men tried to seize him, he ran out of the

WOMAN FINDS AWAKENED AND THIEF PRYING ON OPEN DOOR

Walks Up Behind Him While He Is Intent in Work With Jimmy

STARTS TO CALL POLICE BUT BURGLAR SEES HER

PURSUES ROBBER AS HE FLEES FROM HOUSE ALONG THE STREET

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Her attention attracted by the sound of someone moving about on the back porch of her residence at 2510 Webster street, Mrs. C. Sanderson, bravely disregarding the danger of a meeting with a housebreaker, walked to the rear of the house and boldly entered, to find the porch. There she found a masked thief, intent on his labor of "thinning" when he opened a side door, that he had failed to notice the approach of the housekeeper.

Mrs. Sanderson, realizing that the thief was unaware of her presence, attempted to enter her house again and summon the police, but her first step brought the thief to his feet, and with a smothered oath at having been discovered at his crime, ran from the house. Mrs. Sanderson screamed for help and pursued the thief to the street, but there he disappeared and the search of the police proved futile.

TO DEVELOP RAILWAY IN CORNWALL DISTRICT

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Consul Joseph G. Stephens of Plymouth advises that British authorities have recently confirmed the amended order for the construction of the Callington Railway, as promoted by the Great Western Railway Company.

This line, the construction of which will be started, will proceed with northward, will branch off from the main Great Western road between Saltash and St. Germans stations, and passing through the parishes of St. Stephens, Bousfleming, Filaton, St. Mellion, and St. Dominick, terminate at Callington on the north side of the town, near the main road to Bodmin and North Cornwall. This extension, combined with the recent development on the part of the London and South Western Railway from Bore Alton, Devon, through north Cornwall to Callington will encircle and open a large agricultural and mining district.

10-HOUR WORK DAY FIXED BY GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Consul John H. Grout of Odessa, transmits a decree by the prefect of that Russian city fixing the laboring day for artisans at a uniform length of twelve hours. However, out of the twelve hours the laborers are allowed two hours for rest and meals. In addition to these two hours youths under seventeen years of age must be allowed three hours daily to attend school. Overtime work is permitted only in extreme cases. Artisans of the Christian faith are not required to work on Sundays or feast days. Hebrews and Mohammedans are not required to work on the Sabbath, the rules of their creeds forbid work. Artisans such as bakers and barbers, who work on Sundays, must be given the following day for rest.

ONLY WOMAN IN CAR NOT MOLESTED

HIGHWAYMEN SECURE ABOUT $400 IN CASH AND MAKE THEIR ESCAPE

DENVER, March 25.—Two highwaymen entered a Pullman car in the Denver and Rio Grande yards at West Denver early today, held up the passengers six in number, and the conductor and porter and got away with about $400. The only woman passenger, Miss N. R. Hausey, was not molested.

The car was on the Denver and Rio Grande train No. 4, which was held up at Military Junction a few weeks ago. The train was several hours late in reaching Denver and the passengers of the Pullman were not awakened, but the car was backed down into the yards at West Denver to wait until morning.

Identified by Brother

The last doubt in the minds of the local police officers as to the identity of the man held for the kidnapping of Willie Whitla of Sharon, Pa., was removed today when Thomas J. Boyle of Sharon visited the prison here and said the prisoner is his brother James.

Thomas Boyle arrived here early today and was allowed to see his brother. Arrangements were made to obtain an attorney for the prisoner and take up his defense. The prisoner's brother also saw Mrs. Boyle, but would say nothing regarding her other than that she is the wife of James Boyle. He said he knew nothing of her and that she is unknown in Sharon. The police are making efforts to learn of the woman's past history.

Whitla to Aid

Attorney J. P. Whittla, father of Willie, accompanied by Chief of Police Craig of Sharon, called up Chief of Police Kohler today to arrangements that that of prosecuting Boyle and his wife, Willie, said he would lend every effort to this end and expressed his desire to work in harmony with the officials.

Whitla also checked up the $5000 taken from Mrs. Boyle. He identified the bills and their wrappings as those he prepared for the kidnappers and which he paid over in the little East End Candy store last Monday. Whitla returned to Sharon today.

It was stated at police headquarters that the prisoners would be released to the Pennsylvania authorities as soon as papers were signed. This may be completed today but is not expected until tomorrow.

May Be in Plot

A woman known as Mary Dineen, the police say, who may have been an associate of the kidnappers or was implicated in the plot, committed suicide yesterday by drinking morphine. The woman drank the poison while standing in front of a drug store in the East End not far from the house in which Willie Whitla was detained here. She died in an ambulance while being taken to a hospital.

That James Boyle is not a stranger to the methods of the police is the belief of the Cleveland authorities. Reports from other cities indicate that he has been in trouble before.

Dispatches from East St. Louis tell of Boyle being arrested at Springfield, Ill., about a year ago on the charge of uttering false mortgages. The arrest was resisted by the East St. Louis police, but the case was dismissed with no prosecution.

Was a Soldier

Boyle was born in the vicinity of Sharon, Pa., and has a mother, sister and four brothers, all living there at present. About seven or eight years ago Boyle joined the army and was sent to the Philippines. He returned after a couple of years, never suffering from a growth on the side of his neck. His relatives say that it also affected his mind somewhat and that he did queer things. Boyle came to Cleveland about two years ago to seek treatment for his neck, staying with relatives here, who wished to help him. For some weeks he took treatment at St. Alexia and the growth was finally removed.

Soon Disappears

It was at this time that Boyle first gained his familiarity with Cleveland and became acquainted with the Ontario street saloonkeeper, on whom he called shortly before being arrested. A few weeks later he disappeared. Boyle says that he met the woman who is now in custody with him in Salt Lake, and that they were married there.

Mrs. Whitla, the kidnaper's boy's mother, has issued a statement warning mothers to take precautions to prevent the abduction of children. In her statement she says:

"Mothers should teach their children not to accept candy or money from strangers. Children should be forbidden to go the length of a block with any unknown person, and mothers should tell their children that if a person should attempt to take them away by force they should scream."

It will accommodate 300 children. The property consists of seventy acres and the society already has expended $10,000 for improvements and alterations.

ASSOCIATION URGES INDUSTRIAL PEACE

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Speeches were made and resolutions adopted last night at a meeting held in the First Congregational Church in this city favoring the idea of settling all troubles between labor and capital by peaceful means. The meeting was under the auspices of the National Industrial Peace Association. Patrick J. St. John, organizer of the association, being one of the speakers. Justice Stanford and Rev. Dr. Woodrow, pastor of the church, also spoke. The resolution urged on Congress and the American people the benefits to be derived from industrial peace.

LAWYER TO AID IN PROSECUTING CAPTIVES

BROTHER OF PRISONER VISITS HIM IN CELL AND COMPLETES IDENTIFICATION

CLEVELAND, March 25.—The county grand jury has just issued an indictment against James F. Boyle and Ross Boyle, alias Faulkner, charging them with blackmail. The charge is based on the payment of $10,000 ransom by J. P. Whittla for the recovery of his son Willie here last Monday.

GLAD I CAME TO CASTRO ON WAY MY SENSES, HOME TO START HE WRITES

Missing Merchant Sends Strange Letter From Oregon to His Wife

"HOW I CAME HERE I DON'T KNOW," HE SAYS

Message Said to Show Evidence of Mental Trouble on Part of Writer

HAYWARD, March 25.—A letter purporting to come from A. E. Perreira, the hay and grain merchant who has been missing from his home since last Monday, was received last night by Perreira's wife. The document, the missing man's relatives declare, is incoherent in many respects, and, while his wife believes it to be in her husband's handwriting, she believes the letter was written by another hand.

The letter is postmarked Maryland, Oregon. One part of the letter reads: "My God! I'm glad I came to my senses. How I came here I don't know. Don't worry, that's for me to do. I have plenty of money and will be home in a day or so."

It is believed possible that Perreira was either doped and drugged and robbed of his money, or else wandered away while temporarily demented. "Trunks from Oregon are being watched for his return."

Going Back, He Says

"I am going back to Venezuela. My country needs me and my mission."

Castro declared that his trip to Europe had been misunderstood both at home and abroad. He had come to the continent not only because he needed medical treatment, but also to serve his country by introducing foreign capital to Venezuela.

Castro, who is a native of the province of Juan Vicente Gomez and the treasurer of the bank of the same name, said he was convinced that he was another Napoleon returning from Elba to conquer his country.

COUPLE SEPARATE, SAYS MOTHER; 'NO,' DECLARES MRS. HOUSEWORTH

WIFE DENIES ALL ELOPEMENT TALK

Names on Register of New York Hotel Revive Sensational Rumors

"There is no trouble between my daughter and Mr. Houseworth has been agreed upon, but divorce proceedings will not be begun for some time. The two merely decided that their marriage had best be broken, but there is no ill feeling over it between them — Mrs. Kirk, mother of Mrs. Frederick A. Houseworth

"There is no trouble between Mr. Houseworth and me. We understand each other perfectly. I wish you could see some of the letters that have passed between us recently — Mrs. Frederick A. Houseworth.

There are with the statements of two interested parties in the story which is gaining ground that Frederick A. Houseworth, the well known San Francisco broker and his wife who was the beautiful Miss Dorothy Kirk of San Francisco were estranged and seeking a separation.

It was also part of the gossip that Mr. Houseworth had eloped with G. H. Hayes the wealthy Los Angeles millionaire and that these two and Mrs. Imagine Kirk had been at a New York hotel. The very strongest details of this were made by the husband and his wife and by Mrs. Houseworth herself in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Houseworth

In connection with all these stories is the rather strange coincidence that there was registered at the Gregorian Hotel New York in Wednesday night, a couple registered as Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Houseworth of San Francisco and that they were accompanied by a Miss Kirk of the same city. It was early last Monday that a stranger went to the hotel and asked for quarters for himself, his wife and his wife's sister. He then registered the names as above mentioned and engaged a suite of two rooms on the fifth floor. The party arrived at the hotel Monday night and after dinner in the public dining room had ordered a taxi and was driven to the Grand Central railroad station. He has not been seen since.

Mr. Houseworth admitted yesterday that his wife was in New York and stopping at the Gregorian. Later this was verified by an interview with her, as to whether or not she had planned a separation from her husband and had eloped with G. H. Hayes.

'I Have Not Eloped'

How perfectly ridiculous, exclaimed Mrs. Houseworth, "Why I don't know any man in mind. G. H. Hayes or any other Hayes and she laughed merrily. I have not eloped with anybody at all. There is no trouble between Mr. Houseworth and me. We understand each other perfectly. I wish you could see some of the letters that have passed between us recently."

"Would you mind telling your husband date plans for the future?"

"I am on my way to Europe at least was for you give in the San Francisco report but I am in and necessary to return there to refute these falsehoods," said Mrs. Houseworth.

That she has no serious intention of returning to San Francisco was disclosed later however when Mrs. Houseworth spoke of her anti-espionage trip to Europe.

On what she did will be told and when?

I am not yet married my husband and will no do so until I have been joined by my old school teacher of San Jose who is going with me. I don't know just how long we will remain abroad just as long as we find it pleasant there."

In conclusion Mrs. Houseworth said "Please deny positively that wicked rumor and don't drag my sister's name into it merely because she happens to be with me at this hotel."

Husband Makes Denial

At the Granada Hotel in San Francisco last night Mr. Houseworth strenuously denied all the recent rumors. He was particularly emphatic in the statement that the woman registered as Mrs. D. K. Houseworth was not his wife.

While this story of a separation is untrue one she is coming back to me he declared.

"My wife is at the Gregorian Hotel in New York with her sister, Miss Kirk. Her initials are D. K. But I am sure that there must be some mistake and the Mrs. D. K. Houseworth is not speak of her wife, who is not one and the same. I shall telegraph my wife to night. I cannot imagine who is D. K. Houseworth of this city. I do not know him and never heard of him. But I repeat that the linking of my wife's name with that of Mrs. D. K. Houseworth must be a mistake."

Sees Wife to Train

Houseworth informed his wife to the train a week ago Sunday when she left for New York and they have each been away without returning. Now the missing man has left the beautiful home a 988 Ashbury street and is living at the Granada hotel while former State Superintendent of Public Instruction Kirk, the wife's father, is living at the mansion.

Mr. Kirk says that her daughters are to remain here and teachers from the San Jose school, including the principal, in New York and from a party to Europe, striking conditions there.

The Houseworths were married ten years ago and have been prominent in local society. The late John Weston Power, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Thomas Kirk had entered the best circles. Fred Houseworth is a handsome man, 5 feet 10 inches, weighing near 150. He is an engineer and one of the principal officials of the Western Power Company came there to reside.

Intends Selling Home

Vise some months ago changed his residence and went to live at the St. Francis Hotel. He left the hotel on Tuesday, 21 for New York where he has been ever since. He is with the Western Power Company and is at present.

Thomas Kirk, father of Mrs. Houseworth, stated last night that the Ashbury street home was very expensive for him to maintain and that he intended to sell it.

G. H. Hayes is said today to be in Los Angeles, his home, where he has a wife and two sons.

WELL KNOWN MEN FORM WESTERN MANTLE FIRM

DIES OF INJURIES CAUSED BY FALL

Robert McDermott, Mine Superintendent, Succumbs at Home of Friend

Robert McDermott, Superintendent of the Max Llosed Colliery, here, last night, Saturday, died at 11:15 a. m. this morning at the residence of Morton Burch at 1156 11th Street. Mr. McDermott was buried there a few days ago by his son, John Higgins.

Burch, the friend at his, the story of the supposed elopement of Martin's mother with Mrs. Frederick Houseworth of San Francisco. It was said his brother's picture in a morning paper which was on file at the library and attempted to get out of the library and came to meet him in the street. Burch asked the doctor to join them and have a glass of beer but plaintiff refused and very obligingly returned home. It was the path to finish their little banquet for two.

Dr. Higgins remonstrated with his wife when she returned home with Burch that night about 12 o'clock after going out with her roomer, but she said she had no right to do so.

Mr. Higgins kept at his chambered hotel with Burch at every opportunity he testified.

He remained at the mine for a week, but his condition became so serious that Higgins demanded that McDermott come to his home. For ten days.

This the plaintiff said, but it was found that crushed ribs had penetrated one of his lungs. Complications set in which proved fatal though the best of medical attention and nursing were given to him.

Superintendent McDermott was one of the best known mining men in California. He was 65 years old, a native of Dublin, Ireland.

Burch asked the doctor to join them and have a glass of beer but plaintiff refused and very obligingly returned home. It was the path to finish their little banquet for two.

Dr. Higgins remonstrated with his wife when she returned home with Burch that night about 12 o'clock after going out with her roomer, but she said she had no right to do so.

Mr. Higgins kept at his chambered hotel with Burch at every opportunity he testified.

He remained at the mine for a week, but his condition became so serious that Higgins demanded that McDermott come to his home. For ten days.

This the plaintiff said, but it was found that crushed ribs had penetrated one of his lungs. Complications set in which proved fatal though the best of medical attention and nursing were given to him.

Superintendent McDermott was one of the best known mining men in California. He was 65 years old, a native of Dublin, Ireland.

Robert McDermott, Superintendent of the Max Llosed Colliery, here, last night, Saturday, died at 11:15 a. m. this morning at the residence of Morton Burch at 1156 11th Street. Mr. McDermott was buried there a few days ago by his son, John Higgins.

CASE AFTER CASE

Plenty More Like This in Oakland.

Scores of Oakland people can tell you about Dean's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

E. Considine, 831 Brush street, Oakland, Cal., says: "For years I suffered severely from kidney complaint, the first sign of the trouble being pain and swelling in the small of my back."

The kidney operations were so frequent in those days that I was obliged to get up at night and they deposited a heavy sediment if allowed to stand.

My eyesight became affected and spots often appeared before my eyes when I first arose in the morning. My back ached so severely that I would sometimes toss in sleepless agony, and, as a result of the steady drain on my system, my general health became affected.

A friend, knowing of my severe condition, advised me to take Dean's Kidney Pills, and I procured a box.

I noticed their good effects from the first and it was not long before I was completely cured. I have not had a recurrence of the trouble since, and it therefore gives me pleasure to recommend Dean's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Post-Millburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Dean's—and take no other.

DON'T WAIT UNTIL THE LAST DAY

Get Subscriptions in Now and Avoid Confusion

There are few contestants who are not working for you, and who have any legitimate rights of winning realize that there is not much time left. Three weeks from today will be the end of the contest and in order to avoid regrets as that, or overwork for the few days preceding April 15, it is wise to work now.

Avoid Confusion

Anyone can easily imagine what the last week of the contest, and especially the last few days, will be so far as the office force of THE TRIBUNE is concerned. If everyone saves his subscriptions for a month and brings them in there is bound to be more or less confusion and the candidates may not receive as much attention as they can in other things were not so rushed. As the utmost secrecy is always maintained in the office regarding the candidates' strength, it is suggested that contestants turn their subscriptions in as soon as they are received, thus avoiding to some extent the mass of work which will be created in the office if the subscription is entered now the name of the subscriber can be entered on the books and the paper be sent out at once. Whereas, if it is held the subscriber is very naturally annoyed, because he does not get the paper, for which he has paid.

Among the Leaders

Good work is being done straight through the different divisions, but no changes in leadership are apparent today. Charles Moon, who has the railway employees since the first of the contest, still has the highest vote and continues to sit in. Most recently the automobile and considers it well worth working for.

The letter carriers' division is still led by J. Z. Barnett, who has a large vote, and the prospects of a much higher one, according to his friends. The automobile looks good to him, too.

A considerable gain is made today by Ann Mendenhall, who is coming close in the race, by Charles Moon.

When Mr. Mendenhall's friends put him into the contest he was not especially enthusiastic about it, but after he talked with a few of them and saw the automobile he decided that he would put his best efforts into it and the result is a good standing for Mr. Mendenhall.

NORTH END CLUB TO SHOW AT DREAMLAND TOMORROW NIGHT

MISSION-STREET PROMOTER AFTER NELSON AND WELSH

Coffroth Has Hopes of Handling Nelson and Hyland and the Winner With Freddie Welsh.

By EDDIE SMITH.

THE artcles binding Battling Nelson and Dick Hyland to a forty-five-round contest, the date to be Decoration Day, have been remailed to the Battler with the trifling changes that he speaks of straightened out and again inserted in the articles. What Nelson considered changes of no importance Coffroth took exception to, and if the contest with Hyland is to come off at all, then the Nelson lad must sign the articles as they were when he first received them.

Coffroth is not the one to take any chances with a contest falling through after he has advertised it, and he is also too clever to allow himself to be outwitted by a fighter, so the changes must be left out or the Dane will lose the chance to get other some trouble and change from Hyland.

The Mission-street promoter is also after a great card for the Fourth of July, when he will try to sign up the winner of the Nelson-Hyland contest and English Freddie Welsh for the world's championship. If Hyland should win from Nelson he would be a raging sensation in the world of boxing and a match between he and Welsh would create considerable interest.

The great event, however, would be a contest between Nelson and Welsh. This pair has been tossing and turning since last autumn for a long time, and for one reason or another, the time when they will pull a fight at each other's jaws. That Welsh is a great fighter there is not the slightest bit of doubt and as a crowning feature to his success in America he wants to beat Nelson. Whether or not he can make good is up to him, but we want to see him try just the same.

North End Show Tomorrow

Tomorrow night at the Dreamland Rink the North End Club will make its bid for popularity with the boxing fans and independence from the leaders of boxing, they will sign three fifteen-round contests that may be productive of some good will. As is always the case the greater interest is being taken in the main event between Lew Powell and Muriel Sayers.

The contest between this pair, which is to a certain extent an elimination contest in which the winner will be given a chance with some of the good boys of his class, should be a fast one from the start, for there is only one chance Powell has of carrying off the long end of the purse and that is by roughing it and thrashing his opponent out.

Sayers will endeavor to set the pace himself and make it such that he will be able to make a fast finish and get the decision on points. Last night the men were selling at even money, but by the time they enter the ring Sayers will be a favorite by at least 10 to 8.

Monte Attell has been made a decided favorite over Harry Dell in their contest and judging by the recent showings of the Hebrew fighter there can be no doubt that he is the best. The Hebrew fighter, however, is not the favorite, he is a fighter to be reckoned with, and a gentle one. If Dell can hold that punch he will be declared the winner by the knock-out route, but as he swings his right the chances are not the best and he is very liable to get a good jibbing while he is trying for it.

The first event on the program is the Tom Woods-Frankie Edwards affair. This contest will be a boxing bout pure and simple, for neither man has a great punch and it should go the limit. The men are selling at even money in the betting.

Al Kaufman in Training Pinole Has Boxing Card

BOSTON, March 25—Al Kaufman arrived here yesterday and started training for his prospective bout with Sandy Ferguson.

TRENTON, N.J., March 25—Tommy Lee of Indianapolis and Jimmie Dunn of Cleveland fought ten slow rounds last night.

The United Railroads Athletic Association will hold its second monthly boxing exhibition at the club's gymnasium 1140 Turk street tonight. The program consists of six three-round bouts.

The main event will be between Eddie O'Connor and Lester McFarish of the Reliance Club. Eddie O'Connor and Eddie Simeon of Crockett will mix it for six rounds. The count is a hard little round bout.

Frank Stephenson (Pastime Club) and Eddie Simeon of Crockett will mix it for six rounds. The count is a hard little round bout.

In the wrestling bouts Joe O'Connor and Lester McFarish of the Reliance Club won from Nelson Bill of the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. and Jimmey Simeon of the University of California. O'Connor was from Pinole last night.

CHICAGO, March 25—Tony Capone won the decision over Bobby Burns at the West Hammon last night. Burns was substituted for Carl Anderson who broke his hand in a workout with Frank Capone.

NEW YORK, March 25—Young Corbett will go ten rounds with Bert Keyes of this city at the Whirlwind Athletic Club tonight. Corbett defeated Keyes in his previous bout and will be matched with Battling Nelson in the near future.

Wawonas to Play Marines

The Wawonas Club baseball team of Berkeley will open its season next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in a game with the U. S. Marines of Mare Island at the new Berkeley ball park. The main event will be between Eddie Marion and Louis Hahn.

NEW YORK, March 25—Young Corbett will go ten rounds with Bert Keyes of this city at the Whirlwind Athletic Club tonight. Corbett defeated Keyes in his previous bout and will be matched with Battling Nelson in the near future.

Slosson Outplays Cutter

NEW YORK, March 25—In the fifth game of the 16th billiard tournament for the world's championship the veteran George P. Slosson defeated Albert Cutler by the remarkable score of 500 to 50.

Slosson made 225 in the third inning which is the high run of the tournament.

He had an opportunity of equalling Slosson's average of 100 in his fifth inning but after scoring 150 it is to go for the game he failed on a difficult two-cushion shot. He made but one blank in the sixth. By a score of 500 to 207, Calvin Demarest won from Harry P. Cline of Philadelphia in the fourth game yesterday afternoon.

Demarest won from Harry P. Cline of Philadelphia in the fourth game yesterday afternoon.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25—Charles Morris of Chicago last night defeated Thomas Bickett of Philadelphia in the second of a series of three-cushion amateur billiard contests being held between the East and the West, by the score of 500 to 22.

The schedule of games already includes trials of the best baseball towns of the State.

The Mare Island team was one of the strongest in its vicinity last year and when the baseball organization was established a good record.

Two weeks ago the Marines defeated the Wawonas by the score of 8 to 4 with the additional practice they have had in the Joe Louis arena expect to have won in the Joe Louis arena.

For games with Wawonas team address Manager Wawonas Baseball Team, 2605 Grove street, Berkeley.

Richmonds After Games

The baseball team of the Richmond Volunteer Fire Company No. 3 desires to have their games at the same place as the team whose players average nineteen years or over. Address challenges to W. D. Powell, box 311, Point Richmond.

AMATEUR GAME SUNDAY

Next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. the D. C. Club of Berkeley will cross bats with the University of Oxford at Berkeley Recreation Park, at Molvia and Derby streets.

Amateur Night at Reliance's Success

Offers $75,000 for Jeff-Johnson Fight

TACOMA March 25—Colonel Any Mulligan, the well known sporting man, has come to the front with an offer of a $75,000 purse for Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson. Mulligan stipulated that the contest must take place in or near the city on April 15, and that it must be for twenty rounds. He has placed a forfeit of $6,000 with Jeffries, it is to be paid in full if Jeffries fails to appear on April 15, and the purse is to be divided among the fighters.

ALEXANDER WILL LIKELY BE MAYOR

SMALL EXPENSES FOR CAMPAIGN

First Recall Election in United States Will Be Held in Los Angeles Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—Tomorrow is the date of the recall election for the office of Mayor, the first mayoralty election to be held in the United States under the recall provision of municipal law. While there is little doubt about the result tomorrow, the occasion forms one of the most important epochs in the city's history. There is practically no doubt that George Alexander, the candidate of the Municipal League, Democratic League and other component units in the element which forced the recall of Mayor Harper and finally compelled the latter's resignation, will be chosen.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most useful remedy for all kinds of female troubles, and I feel that I can never praise it enough."—MRS. H. H. NOAH, KY.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and effect of health at this time invited his care and pain.

Everyone everywhere has learned that there is no other remedy known to me that will successfully carry us men through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and for 30 years it has been curing from the worst forms of female inflammation, ulceration, discharges, fibroid tumors, irregular periods, pains, backache, and your prostration.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at 111, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

SITE BOUGHT FOR POWDER WORKS

Begin Building Operations Immediately on Land Near Antioch

It is stated authoritatively that the California Powder Works, the new company being promoted by John Berning, is to be located near Antioch. A tract of land containing 1100 acres, situated four miles south of Antioch, together with a right of way formerly used as a coal railroad to the water front and also a large wharf, is said to have been purchased from a Mr. Senator M. L. Shesby for the location of a plant.

According to the report, engineers will at once begin work upon a survey of the road leading to the property with view to making it to a narrow gauge. Cars can then be switched directly from the South Pacific to the works and the finished product be brought down. Raw material, which is shipped to Antioch in scowling vessels, can be landed on the wharf at the south end of the plant and transported to the works by an electric line. Steel vessels of coal have been opened on the property and it is intended to use this fuel to generate electricity for power and lighting purposes. It is said that active building operations will begin at once but that about a year will be required to complete the plant.

The officers of the new company are: Ex-Senator G. M. Balshaw, president; John Berning, Jr., of Pinole, vice-president and general manager, and J. E. Rodgers of Martinez, secretary.

$1630 REALIZED FROM $300,000 EXPENDITURE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—The last piece of property of the American Oil and Refining company, which exploited wells in Contra Costa county on which more than $300,000 has been spent, was sold at public auction yesterday by Reference in Bankruptcy. Grand total bid was the insignificant sum of $1630. It was bought by the Western Machine company. The bid was conditional as to the location on which the plant is located is leased.

This is the last of the dream of W. B. Holcomb, who was the promoter and who sank a fortune expecting to get a producing oil well and then sold stock to his friends, all of which went into the speculation.

The two oil wells are on what is called the Linda road, between Alameda and Contra Costa counties, about fourteen miles from Oakland.

A depth of 2700 feet has been reached and oil was discovered, but could never be obtained in quantity to make it flow. The machinery cost more than $50,000.

GOULD'S YACHT IS MOST PALATIALFinancier Ransacks Ancient Palaces and Adds to Gorgeousness of CraftNEW YORK, March 25.—If one of those old-time galleys, rafals or nawabs could have stepped out of an Arabian Night's tale and boarded the Hoboken the other day with her new fittings and trapping his blear ghost would have been the okhawakhalah green at the glimpse of such luxury as the ancient East never dreamed of.For the second time within two years this gorgeous yacht has been refitted—this last time at an expense of $1,000,000. Louis XIV had a few tiny drawing rooms in his palace, but compared with the newly-appointed drawings rooms of the royal yacht said apartments in the Louvre frame up like Cherry Street attics.

Costly Draperies

Not satisfied with rose colored marble as the predominant feature of decoration in drawing room and music-room, Mr. Gould has had the walls hung with ancient tapestries that cost him $1,000,000. These have been a little dusty, infusing here and there that would cause a Russian grand duke who had been administering the Czar's finances to gape and gape again.There are chairs with spindle legs and backs that are worth their weight in 16th silver, and there are small ovals ransomed from a whole flock of kidnapped khans. The electrolors are illgilded with precious metals and there are Oriental lamps studded with minerals of great price.When Am. L. Barber built this splendid turbine yacht six years ago and spent $1,000,000 in the boat, he had not called it the Lorenz, and the name Lorenz became synonymous of the most palatial thing in pleasure craft that the world had ever seen.
Also she was the fastest yacht afloat.
Her interior fittings were pronounced by kings and dukes as exquisitely elegant.But when George J. Gould bought the Lorenz from Mr. Barber he renamed it the Atlanta, Mrs. Gould signed and said that the interior was altogether too simple and really not in keeping with the grace and magnificence of the yacht itself.

Gorgeous Living Apartments

If it was necessary to spend $20,000 on a room, then that room should be spent on the living apartments.After yachting about the globe and getting opinions from famous decorators of many countries, the Goulds set to work to turn the Atlanta into the real thing in the winter of 1898. The galleries and palaces of the continent were ransacked for costly paintings and statuary. Then the rose-colored marble was dug out of some broken down king's palace and put into the drawing room. The bedrooms were decorated in the Georgian and Louis XVI style, and then some. When Mr.
Gould got the boat for this it ate up a lot of his money.Mrs. Gould was quite satisfied with the new fittings for a few months. Then she began to tire of them. There was something lacking. Somewhere in Europe, Asia, or Africa she saw something that had it a little on the Atlanta's drawing rooms, eating rooms, baths, bedrooms, etc.

All Done Over Again

So a few months ago the Atlanta rose to an army of workmen went through her interior with the thoroughness of a Black Hand gang ravaging an Avenue A tenement. The drawing room was enlarged, the dining room was shifted, the state-rooms were shunted down an entire story, and various other improvements revised. When all was completed the bill was $1,000,- 000, and Mrs. Gould was vastly pleased.The renovated Atlanta sailed from Hoboken with only Captain Todd and crew on board. No stop will be made until they arrive at Jacksonville, Fla., where Mr. and Mrs. Gould, Marjorie and Jack Gould and a party of friends will embark for a cruise along the Spanish Main and among the Bahamas and West Indies. The Atlanta will return to the city in time to leave for London, where the Goulds have taken a house for the season.The Gould yacht was built at Leith, to a length of 252 feet on the water line, 23 feet 3 inches beam and can spin out twenty knots. She has a continuous promenade deck over the whole of the vessel to within twenty feet of the stern.BLUFFED INTO GIVING UP THEATER TICKETSALAMEDA, March 25.—A still hunt is being made for a man who under false pretenses used the name of William Zinge of this city and succeeded in swindling $1,000 from the Orpheum Theater. The man stated that he came from Alameda and used Zinge's name. He seured the tickets and enjoyed a pleasant Sunday evening at the theater at the expense of Zinge.

CITIZENS JOIN IN CHASE OF THIEF

Crowds Head Off Fleeing Robber Who Is Caught by Policeman

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—A chase through a crowded street took place this morning shortly after 10 o'clock when Patrolman Cameron pursued two crooks from the tailoring establishment of A. M. Rude, 1405 Polk street, which is now 1406, to Green and Powell streets, a distance of ten blocks, where one of the robbers was apprehended.

The two men entered Rude's store and while one of them engaged the proprietor in conversation, the other attempted to make off with a suit of clothes. He was seen by the tailor, who gave chase. Through hundred's of spectators who pursued the robber made their way. Calls of "Stop thief!" filled the air and citizens joined in the chase, those in front heading off the fugitive and causing him to dart up a side street. When he reached Powell street he continued his flight towards the wharf, but at Green street Policeman Cameron hove in sight and quickly put an end to the chase.

In the excitement at the crook, who had been speaking with Rude managed to escape unnoticed.

BACK FROM NOME AFTER HARD TRIP

John H. Bullock Tells of Trials in Long Journey Over Ice From Alaska

ALAMEDA, March 25.—After an eventful Alaskan trip, John H. Bullock, the son of Colonel H. B. Bullock, has returned from the northland, where he spent the winter traveling in a sled driven by the team of dogs with the temperature below zero, was the experience of the intrepid traveler, who met with many adventures crossing the ice-bound country.

A summary of these varied experiences which Bullock kept during the trip is now being published in a Nome Journal two-thirds of the journey over the ice and snow was made on foot by Bullock in company with three other men.

Bullock says that the term "ice bound" is certainly applicable to Nome, where the ice, tufted in on the shore, was many miles from the sea, in heights overlapping the houses.

One of the tales related by Bullock in connection with his trip over the ice covered land is one that partially deceived the wolf dogs, which he says were vicious and treacherous. He relates a far top boat with a huge piece taken from the tail of the boat, so that the dogs stumbled and fell over a block of ice as evidence.

FIRST NURSE GRADUATES FROM TRAINING SCHOOL

BERKELEY, March 25.—Miss Alberta LeFever is the first nurse to graduate from the training school at the Roosevelt hospital in this city having yesterday completed the three years' course of study and novice training prescribed by the code.

She will spend a vacation at El Verano, Sonoma county, after which she will return to Berkeley, assuming the position of responsibility in the hospital.

SODALITY TO GIVE WHIST TOURNAMENT

FRUITVALE, March 25.—The Young Men's Sodality of St. Elizabeth's parish is making arrangements for a grand prize whist tournament which will be given at St. Elizabeth Hall on April 1. The proceeds derived from the affair will be devoted to the benefit of the sodality.

Dustin Farnum Takes as Bride His Leading Woman

MARY B. CONWELL,
Now the Wife of Dustin Farnum.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Eluding his wedding was reached by Farnum and his friends, members of his company, and his press agent, Dustin Farnum, the star in "Cameo Kirby," playing at the Shubert Theater, was married yesterday to Miss Mary Conwell by Dr. M. M. Mangasarian. The ceremony, announced two weeks ago, and originally set for June, was performed at the Mangasarian home, 177 Eugenie street.

The decision to change the date of the

NEW FIRE HOUSE TO BE COMPLETED SOON

FRUITVALE, March 25.—A. Ballestron, a well-qualified engineer at the Bassett street fire house to take the place of John Quigley, who will take charge of the right after his retirement, is employed. The building, receiving the finishing touches and will be ready for occupancy by April 10, at which time Quigley will take up his permanent headquarters.

The new chemical engine will be ready for use within a few days and will be housed at the Bassett street headquarters. The gas engine will be taken by Quigley to High street.

The building on High street is a two-story structure, with modern apartments on the second floor, where Quigley and his family will reside.

Ballestron will, in conjunction with his duties as engineer, become chief warden of the Fruitvale jail.

DAILY LONG WALK KEEPS PIONEER IN HEALTH

HAYWARD, March 25.—J. H. Flego, one of the best known pioneers of California, celebrated his sixty-third birthday Tuesday and received the congratulations of his friends.

Flego is a pedestrian of unusual ability, and his practice is to take long daily walks, every morning, from his residence in Castro Valley to the Southern Pacific station without effort. He is a great believer in walking and his robust health bears out his theory.

Mr. and Mrs. Flego will leave for Hull Mountain, the coming week and in July they will go on an extensive tour of Europe.

Before we can close our Emeryville warehouse we must sell more chairs—hundreds of them—as our stock, though greatly decreased, is still too large. You can have all the profit and some of the cost if you buy any of the chairs advertised today.

COMPANY WILL DEEPEN CHANNEL

Large Vessels Will Soon Be Able to Dock at Dredger Concern's Docks

ALAMEDA, March 25.—Big improvements in Alameda are being planned by the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Company, which has a large plant on the Alameda side of the tidal canal, at the west of Oak street. The company, in its own interest, is to deepen the harbor so that large vessels can dock at its wharves.

The contract which this concern has with the government for dredging Alameda and Oakland harbors provides for the dredging of the estuary to within a few hundred feet of its property. The dredger Oakland is now at work fulfilling the contract with the government and when it is completed work will be continued in front of the dredger company's docks.

As soon as the industrial track along Alameda's wharves, Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Company's property, is completed, this city will have direct shipping facilities from rail to the sea.

RECOVERING FROM BULLET WOUND

Joe Simmons Says He Was Shot For Intervening in Family Row

NTLLES, March 25.—Joe Simmons, the patient, who was shot through the thigh yesterday afternoon by J. F. Silva, his employer, will suffer no serious effects from the shooting.

Simmons was able to walk from the Silva residence to the county infirmary after the shooting. He stated that he intervened in a family row and was shot for his trouble.

Captain Rodriguez placed Silva under arrest for assault with intent to commit murder. He was taken to the county jail.

TWENTY-FIVE MEMBERS INITIATED BY EAGLES

BERKELEY, March 25.—One of the largest and most successful classes in the history of the West Berkeley Eagles occurred Saturday evening when the West Berkeley Eagles initiated a record class of twenty-five in their lodge room in Fraternity hall. After the completion of the ceremonies the evening was given over to merrymaking.

WHY NOT END ALL INDIGESTION FOREVER

Have Your Stomach Trouble Over With So You Can Eat Your Favorite Foods

The question as to how long you are going to continue suffer from indigestion and stomach trouble is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking Dlapepin.

If your stomach is lacking in digestive powers, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a re-enforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the human system.

People with weak stomachs should eat Dlapepin after meals, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, sour risings, gas, or stomach or belching of undigested food, headaches, dizziness or vomiting, and besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison the system with nauseous odors. These symptoms resulting from a sour stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved five minutes after eating one triangle of Dlapepin.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent case of Pape's Dlapepin now, and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there is not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

WORK TO COMMENCE ON NEW WAREHOUSE

BERKELEY, March 25.—Work is to be commenced on the huge warehouse which is to be constructed on the water front at the foot of University avenue for the El Dorado Oil Company.

This warehouse is to have ground dimensions of 340 by 70, and will be one of the largest on the water front. Lumber and other building materials will be hauled up the hill and the work of sinking the piles upon which the structure will rest will be started at the earliest possible date.

WOMEN WILL PRODUCE "THE DISTRICT SKULE"

BERKELEY, March 25.—The local Women's Relief Corp. is planning to present "The District Skule" for the benefit of the Relief Hole, which has been appointed chairman of the arrangements committee, and H. W. Brunk who impersonated the past last year, will take the role of conductor. The first meeting of the entertainment, which will take place next month, will be set at a later date.

U. C. SCHOLARSHIP IS OAKLAND HIGH'S PLAN

BERKELEY, March 25.—The Oakland High School Alumni Association is planning to establish a University of California Scholarship to begin next year. This scholarship will be available to students of the Oakland High school application being made to Miss Ruby K. Krebs, secretary of the organization. The association will further consider the plan at its next meeting, April 22.

Special

We should like to have every young couple, and, in fact, every one read the article that appears in the Ladies' Home Journal this month in regard to buying furniture from the so-called installment houses.

After you have read this article remember that Breuner's extend their credit to all deserving people. Our square deal "Money Back" Policy has made us the largest retailers of furniture on the Pacific Coast.

Once a Breuner customer, always a Breuner customer—we hold the confidence of thousands of people.

This is the city that you call home

What are you doing to help make your home town more beautiful, more prosperous and habitable? Every new citizen brought here makes your property more valuable.

Can you bring some one? Better still, help the Chamber of Commerce bring hundreds, ay, thousands—and we will all prosper.

Jump the roost and boost a bit.

The Stolz Electrophone, like other devices, enables the wearer to hear ordinary conversation instantly, but its greatest feature lies in the permanent benefit derived from its constant use. By wearing this instrument 3 or 4 hours a day, listening to conversation, reading or music,

The Stolz Electrophone is different from every other hearing apparatus.

There are many devices that enable the deaf to hear, many giving instant relief, but there are none that we know of, except the Stolz Electrophone, that develop and improve the natural hearing or that will be of permanent benefit to the wearer.

It isn't safe to wear devices that stretch or strain the delicate muscles of the ear, it isn't sufficient that a hearing apparatus enables you to hear, for you cannot afford temporary relief at the expense of future discomfort.

The Stolz Electrophone, like other devices, enables the wearer to hear ordinary conversation instantly, but its greatest feature lies in the permanent benefit derived from its constant use.

If you question this fact we shall be glad to refer you to wearers of the Stolz Electrophone, who will gladly give you their experience with the instrument.
